

CROWDED THEATRE ENJOYS LOCAL THESPIAN OFFERING

Presbyterian L. A. Coffers
Nicely replenished efforts
Of Local Talent

By our Dramatic Critic
Mr. W. T. Suckling M. A.

That Wainwright has excellent stage talent was ably demonstrated Friday evening at the Elite theatre when a number of 'local' thespians under the able direction of Mr. R. G. Dunsmore produced, to a crowded house, a modern two act drama entitled "Among the Breakers". The play gave a wide scope in its presentation for near tragedy as well as comedy and such were so intermingled that, from the opening to the drop of the curtain, the closest attention was given by the large audience present.

Each part was so admirably portrayed that it was difficult to realize that those taking part were amateurs and not professionals.

Mr. F. J. Raymer as Larry Divine, the Light House Keeper's Assistant, with his Irish wit and brogue, and the "smooth" way of the Irish in affairs of the heart, appeared quite in his element in winning the affections of Miss Biddy Bean—Miss M. McFarland who also displayed like ability, under disguise, to meet Larry at least half way. Mrs. N. S. Kenny as "Mother Cary" and Mr. W. J. Huntingford as the Hon. Bruce Hunter, a gentleman of leisure, in the interpretation of their respective parts, assisted materially in making the play a success. It proved to be, Mr. J. W. Stuart, Hunter's black servant, "Scud" proved the inevitable "storm centre" of mirth and clearly demonstrated his ability to get himself in the right place at the wrong time. Mr. D. W. Davidson, the Light House Keeper, ably carried through his difficult part. Miss A. Mearns, as Bess Starbright, bright and vivacious, was surely a stumbling block to amorous youth, acting her part with perfection and did not hesitate to expose the fickleness of Peter Paragon. Mr. C. E. Ward, who evidently carried his heart on his sleeve—at least for a time. Mr. P. M. Murray as Clarence Hunter, was just bashful enough to be a success. Miss M. Stanford as Minnie Deane acted her part with ease and gracefulness.

Mr. Dunsmore, the Director, is to be congratulated on the success of the play. The parties taking the several parts were well chosen; the entrances and exits were well managed; and the costuming and properties appropriate. The entire absence of prompting showed that a great amount of time, labor, and thought had been spent to make the progress of the play so realistic and run its natural course so smoothly.

Preceding the play, a pleasing programme of musical numbers was rendered (every item of which was vociferously encored) as follows—

Quartette—Wreck of the Julie Plante—Messrs Washburn, Fish, Raymer and Dunsmore.
Solo—Come Back to Erin—Mrs. E. L. Fuller.
Song—Blowing Bubbles—Master H. Wiley.
Solo—A May Morning—Mrs. G. L. Hudson.
Reading—A Lesson in Etiquette—Mr. J. W. Stuart.
Quartette—Old Virginny—Messrs Washburn, Fish, Raymer and Dunsmore.
Solo—Love's Old Sweet Song—Mrs. E. L. Fuller.

Interpersed throughout the entire evening were very acceptable numbers by the "Wainwright orchestra," these being of their usual high merit. At the conclusion a splendid lunch was served by the church ladies to all those who took part in the affair, and to "Wind-up" the evening in a truly accepted style the orchestra arranged a little dance which many enjoyed till the early hours. Something over $250.00 was the gross proceeds.

Quite a number of young people enjoyed the dual birthday celebration of the Misses M. Turner and S. Kenny at Clear Lake on Sunday last.

BASKET-BALL TEAM BEAT OPPONENTS AT WIKING BY 15-1

The local high school girls basketball team played their first game since they organized this spring on the fair grounds last Saturday evening at Wiking. Their worthy opponents were the high school team from here who went up Saturday Morning. The Wiking local high school entertained the visitors to an auto ride and picnic to Lake Thomas in the afternoon after which the teams lined up for the game at 6:30. A good crowd of rooters turned out to cheer the teams. It was plainly to be seen that the visitors from the here had the edge on there unexperienced players from the start, but the Wiking girls put up a plucky defense against odds. The first half ended 9 to 0 and the second half 6 to 1 in favor of Wainwright. The Wiking local girls should not be discouraged at losing to a team that has played together for several seasons, but keep on practicing and practicing together and they will come out alright.

The Viking high school team was as follows:—Forwards, Mildred Dodds, Inez Venner; centres, Alice Stevenson, Bernice Long; guards, Helga Peterson, Buranita Benson.

The Wainwright Team—Forwards, Effie Murray, Pearl Wakefield; centres, Mary Scofield, Jace Mahey; guards, Edith Love, Florence Taylor.
Free throw, Mildred Dodds.
Field goals, Wainwright, Pearl Wakefield 4, Effie Murray 3, free throw 1—Viking News

SPORTSMEN ARE NOW CANDEMNING CROWS. AS VERY DESTRUCTIVE

The Northern Alberta Game & Fish Protective League from its headquarters in Edmonton is conducting a complete campaign against the "black rangers"—the crows—this spring. It has been conclusively proved that crows are very destructive to the eggs and young chicks of both domestic and wild fowl. They have many times been found destroying the nests ducks and prairie chickens and for this they have earned the condemnation of the sportsmen. It is not believed that the crows should be absolutely exterminated, but the numbers of this pest must be cut down considerably.

The Protective League in Edmonton is holding organized shoots every Saturday afternoon and thorough hunts will be made through the surrounding districts, and to increase the extent of this campaign the suggestion has been made that the gunmen in this community should get out and do a little exterminating. In this matter teams could be chosen, the league team to pay for a supper for the ammunition and this would help to create enthusiasm; but however it is conducted, it is felt that some action should be taken. There is no use looking to the government for bounty on crows; the government hasn't the money—and if the sportsmen are really in earnest they won't need that incentive to promote their own interest. The secretary of the new league is Mr. W. Mason, c/o Somerville Hardware, Edmonton.

If the telephone girl would tell all that she knows,
She would turn all our friends into bitter foes.
She would sow a small wind that would soon be a gale,
Engulf us in trouble and land us in jail.
She would let go a story (which gaining in force)
Would cause half our wives to bring suit for divorce.
She would get all the churches mixed up in a fight.
And turn at our daytime to sorrowing night.
In fact she could keep the whole town in a stew.
If she'd tell us a part of the things that she knew,
Now doesn't it put your old head in a whirl,
When you think what you owe to the telephone girl.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

We are not responsible for opinions expressed by correspondents.

To the Editor,
Dear Sir,—In last Saturday's Edmonton Journal the following phrase appears in capital letters on the front page "Will pluck last revolver from hands of Irish assassins".
I protest most strongly against the two words "Irish assassins". The Irish are not assassins, and it is a sad mis-use of language that would attempt to convey that idea; it is not in keeping with the statement of the chief secretary, who thoroughly understands the situation. Here are his words—"We will go on with patience and courage until the last revolver is picked out of the hands of the last assassin in Ireland."
That's a totally different idea from "Irish assassins" and understand very well the root cause of all the trouble in Ireland today—for English statesmen of the past are largely to blame—but I have little intention to enter into explanations which demand not a letter but a history.
"Irish assassins" indeed; what impertinence!
I, O'CONNOR WILSON

AT THE ELITE TONIGHT

OWEN MOORE IN THE POOR SIMP

One of the unusual phases of the making of the new Selznick production, "The Poor Simp," featuring Owen Moore, was a rather unique street parade in Los Angeles and in which Mr. Moore was the central figure.

The parade consisting of a large truck towing another truck carrying a power generator that supplied current to the powerful spotlights focussed on the occupant of the limousine, Mr. Moore.

Mounted on a platform, built over the hood of the limousine was the camera. Director Herrman sat on one side of the platform, directing the actions of Mr. Moore, which were recorded by the cameramen on the other side, while the star reclined luxuriously on the soft cushions of the limousine and absently pulled petals from a huge bouquet of orchids to the accompaniment of the well-known formula, "She loves me, she loves me not."

To his astonishment and chagrin he was awakened from his reverie at the end of his journey by being informed that the flowers he had destroyed would cost him back an even $50.00 "per". It was rather a good joke, if a costly one, but the film star paid up smilingly.

"The Poor Simp" is considered by far the funniest picture in which Mr. Moore has appeared. It will be shown at the Elite theatre tonight and tomorrow (Thursday.)

If you miss your "Star" one of these days, on account of being in arrears in the matter of paying for same, don't blame your postmaster for mishandling it; because he will not have received it either. No one can read "The Star" long for nothing. We realise very well that the Newspaper business is burdened through the system of continuing to press a product on a customer, who is willing to read, and unwilling to pay. "The Star" costs four cents per week, and we have no apologies to offer at that figure. Please remit!

LIEUT. GOV. R. BRETT MAKES APPEAL FOR RED CROSS DRIVE

"The Red Cross emerged from the Great War with a record unsurpassed to save life amidst the wreck of war, it has become a sign that war shall one day cease and that the love of man will finally conquer the hate of man."

In these words, Lieutenant-Governor R. G. Brett summarized the ideals of the Red Cross, in a message to the people of Alberta: A worker for this organization, His Honor calls on the public to join He points out that the Red Cross today constitutes an international brotherhood of people carrying on a great work for humanity.

In concluding this stirring message the Lieutenant-Governor says: "Great as is the peace programme of the Red Cross, let us not forget that its war programme is not yet finished. Over five hundred veterans are still in the hospitals of his province, who need the services of the Red Cross. They bear the cruel wounds and diseases of war. This is the opportunity of the people of Alberta to remember them and cheer them. Many of them can never be well again. They can have no part in the work of reconstruction which we all hail with so much fervour and hope. But with their fallen comrades they have proved to us that the world is worth saving and worth reconstructing. There are hundreds of soldiers and their families in this province who are not yet fully or even partially established in health after their war service. They disdain, and rightly so, the efforts of private charity. The Red Cross can do so much to alleviate and prevent suffering in these homes."

It is estimated that in Toronto, the administration of public health service by the municipal health authorities within a period of ten years has so reduced the number of deaths that about 1,800 fewer people died last year than would otherwise have been the case.

VANGOUVER IS RENDEVOUS OF CANADIAN NEWSPAPER MEN

Party Leaves by Special Train
On June 2nd—Will Stop Off
At Many Places on Trip

On Thursday June 2nd, at 4 p.m. a special train bearing many eastern publishers and their wives will leave Toronto for the annual Weekly Newspapers Association, which is to be held in Vancouver on June 9th and 10th.

The party is made up of representative editors from Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick, Quebec and Ontario, and will be gathered along with the 300 or more of the Western Provinces members, will constitute the largest press gathering ever held in Canada.

POST OFFICE WALLS ALL NEEDED FOR DEPARTMENT NOTICES

The following has been sent us from Ottawa with a request for publication for the benefit of the public at large:—An official circular issued to all postmasters contains the following clause, and this is to be rigidly and impartially enforced:—"Postmasters are warned against allowing notices other than Post Office notices to be exhibited in the lobby of the Post Office. The Department is aware that pressure is often brought to bear upon the postmaster to allow notices of gatherings for charitable purposes, and 'lost' and 'found' notices, etc., but it is hereby ordered that the postmaster, in order that the office may receive the undivided attention which the public interests require, shall not exhibit other than Post Office notices."

WEDDING BELLS

WILKINSON-SMITH

On Tuesday May 24 at the residence of the Bridegroom, Mr. Tom Wilkinson of Clear Lake Heath, was united in matrimony to Miss Mabel Smith of Nottingham, England.

The Bride accompanied by her father arrived on the day previous having travelled from Liverpool on the Royal Mail steamer, "The Empress of France."

None but immediate relatives of the Bride and Bridegroom were present at the Ceremony which was performed by the Vicar of Wainwright.

The Bridegroom has recently erected a new house overlooking the Southern shore of the lake, which is a truly beautiful and a delightful spot.

The bride was given away by her father Mr. Joseph Smith, late Supervisor of Inland Revenue England, the witnesses being Tom Wilkinson, jur., and Gertrude Smetnicka.

After the ceremony a dainty dinner was served.

A NEW TELEPHONE SCHEME BETWEEN ALBERTA CITIES

"Wireless" will soon be in operation between Edmonton and Calgary. An order has been placed by the government telephone department for the installation of a carrier current system of multiplex telephony between the two cities, by which it will be possible greatly to increase the talking service over the existing lines without putting in additional wires.

When the new equipment is installed as many as 16 telegraph messages can be sent over the two pairs of wires simultaneously, all the time, and without any interference at the end of the line.

It is expected that the work of installing the equipment will be carried out during the summer and that the multiplex system, which is spoken of in telephone circles as "wireless", will be in use by the autumn.

The introduction of this new idea in the telephone service has been decided upon by the government in order to provide needed expansion.

Through the courtesy of the C. P. R., the C. N. R., and G. T. R. a very fine special train of ten cars will be made up. The Easterners will use this train on the entire trip.

The going journey will be made over the Canadian National lines, and the return over the Canadian Pacific. Numerous stops will be made ranging from three hours to a day, and these stops will include many important points in the west.

On the way out stops will be made at Winnipeg, Saskatoon, Edmonton, Jasper Park, Kamloops, while on the return visits will be made at Lake Louise, Banff, Calgary, Regina, Port Arthur. At Vancouver there will be much entertainment, and at Victoria the Lieutenant-Governor will give a party in honor of the visitors.

As the press party is to stop at a number of places there are no doubt many persons now in the west, who still subscribe for the "old home paper" and who will take the opportunity to see "their editor" at one of the stopping places. If this is done it will make the trip much more enjoyable, as nothing would delight the editors more than to shake the hands of old friends and subscribers in the West.

The Eastern editors will have a very pleasant duty, that of "writing up" the West. The railways will endeavor to show the party the most resourceful parts of the Great West, and no doubt the western men and women will have a hearty welcome ready.

The taking of such an extensive trip by Eastern weekly newspaper publishers may mean that some of the local weeklies will have to be closed down for an issue. But we are sure that the people of the East will be well repaid, for their editors will come back home inspired and encouraged and prepared to furnish some interesting reading about the Canadian West.

The itinerary and time-table is as follows:

Western Premiers' Conference To Discuss Unoccupied Land Problem

The announcement has been made in the Manitoba Legislature that Premier T. C. Norris will call a conference of the prairie province Premiers to consider what kind of uniform legislation is necessary to deal with the unoccupied land problem in Western Canada. It is also proposed that the conference consider the position of the settlers who will have a view of finding ways and means to increase their productivity to the country.

It need not be argued that the calling of a conference for such a purpose is timely and in the national interest, for it has been well said that the economic future of the West and of Canada as a whole, depends upon the proper settlement of the unoccupied lands along existing railway lines and upon the improvement of conditions affecting the production of basic farm products.

The forthcoming conference is the outcome of various meetings held between the Western Provincial Cabinet Ministers and the officials of the Western Canada Colonization Association.

In the memorial recently presented to the Western Governments by the Managing Director of the Colonization Association, the view was clearly and strongly expressed that uniform legislation, calling for the listing of unoccupied lands at firm prices and for a reasonable period, was the keystone to the success of any genuine colonization movement.

It is idle to advance the theory that voluntary listing of unoccupied lands will suffice, for those who are in a position to judge as to the possible success of any voluntary movement are seriously impressed with the statement of General McRae that the proposed legislation is both reasonable and necessary, if the money subscribed to the Western Canada Colonization Association is to be expended in the national interest.

The listing of unoccupied lands with the provincial governments will enable their Land Boards to issue maps and price lists similar to those now issued by the railway companies. Such maps and price lists will be generally distributed and will not only serve the purpose of the Western Canada Colonization Association, but as well all the land agencies throughout the provinces. In addition the necessary information will be provided to enable the Dominion Government to direct immigrants to the vacant lands near existing railway lines where homesteads are no longer available.

The unqualified endorsement given throughout the country to the proposal for provincial legislation is evidence that the people of the West are seriously anxious to effectively deal with, and find a solution for, the unoccupied land problem in the prairie provinces.

The proposed "inter-provincial Premiers' conference" will probably be held at an early date, the outcome of which will doubtless affect every community interest in the West. In the meantime every Board of Trade, Municipal Council, Farmers' Organization, and all interested public bodies and citizens, should give serious consideration to this important subject and make representations in regard thereto to their respective Governments. Some legislation undoubtedly is necessary to deal with the serious unoccupied land problem. Needless to say, every urban resident is affected by the success or failure of the farmer on the land and should therefore be vitally interested in the forthcoming Premiers' conference when agricultural conditions will be fully reviewed and an honest attempt made to find a remedy for existing ills.

Science Explained Rain of Blood

Clouds Were Saturated With Red Sand From Desert.

The "Rain of Blood," a curious phenomenon of Southern France and Italy, occurred recently at Monte Carlo and Mentone. After the downpour ceased the roofs, roads, gardens and shrubs of the Riviera were covered with sticky crimson. The superstitious inhabitants of the gambling metropolis were much terrified. There is, however, a scientific explanation which is perfectly satisfactory, says the "Scientific American." It is said that the rain clouds had been saturated with red sand from the Sahara Desert.

Farms in New York City.

There are in the limits of the city of New York 800 farms, valued at more than $35,000,000. Five are in Manhattan, 55 in the Bronx, 54 in Brooklyn, 565 in Queens and 121 in the Borough of Richmond. The average value of a farm in the nation's greatest city varies according to location, and the average acreage value runs all the way from $558 in the Bronx to nearly $3,000 in Brooklyn.—New York Times.

Hog raising in Western Canada is still a paying proposition despite the slump in prices of all farm products. John Hamilton, of Coalville, Alberta, recently delivered a load of hogs to a Lethbridge butcher, averaging 270 pounds each. They were nine months old and scaled this weight after a journey of eighteen miles.

Britain the Balance Wheel

New York Minister Urges Crushing of Anti-British Sentiment.

The ministers of the United States were urged to do all in their power to crush any and every sentiment that we hear against England, in an address by the Rev. Charles S. MacFarland, of New York, general secretary of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, before the Congress on reduction of armaments.

"Everywhere abroad," Mr. MacFarland said, "one finds unrest—dangerous unrest. England, conservative to the superlative degree, is the great balance wheel, the great governor."

Make Armistice Day Fixed Holiday.

The conclusion of the war is to be celebrated by a public holiday observed under the name of Armistice Day. A bill to this effect passed its final stage in the House of Commons and no doubt is felt that it will receive Senate approval. The holiday will be the Monday in the week in which November 11 (the day on which hostilities terminated) occurs and Thanksgiving will be celebrated the same day.

Madame Curie's Position in Scientific World Is Without Parallel in History.

Mme. Marie Curie, discoverer of radium, is in New York to receive the gift of one gram of this very valuable element from American women. The rise of this woman to the position of a leading scientist of the world is without parallel in history. The daughter of a poor but distinguished Polish scientist, she worked her way up in the field of her choice until today she bears the unique distinction of having, together with her husband, received the Nobel Prize award, being the first and only woman professor at the Sorbonne in Paris, of having received the ribbon of the Legion of Honor because, as she put it, "I don't like decorations," of receiving the English Albert Medal from the Royal Society of Arts, the second to be granted to a woman, Queen Victoria having received the first. There were many more honors and decorations offered, but the response in almost all instances was similar to the one given to the suggestion of the Legion of Honor award.

Allies Will Care For German Graves

Over 400,000 Estimated to be on French Soil.

A conference will shortly be held between the representatives of the British, French and Belgian War Graves Commissions to discuss the problem of German graves in Allied countries and of Allied graves in Germany. It is estimated that there are well over 400,000 German graves on French soil and under 30,000 French graves in Germany. It is hoped that a satisfactory solution of this problem may be reached at the conference.

Never Refuses Request For Help.

"Why," asked Grey (Lord Grey), of Cecil Rhodes, one day, "do you always give away cheques of £20, £30, £50, or more, to even ne'er-do-wells who whinge to you for help?" "Well," said Rhodes, "a man once came to me in Cape Town, and said he was on his beam-ends, could I lend him something. I didn't like the fellow's face, and refused, and that same night he committed suicide. That was a lesson to me; and since then I have never said no, to refuse money to folks who are hard up."

How Are You.

—A New York man declares that the ordinary reply to the question "How are you?" is either trite, ungrammatical or mendacious. Frequently, too, it is elaborate and tiresome. It would be better, would it not, if more people regarded the rhymed rule in the matter, which runs: Don't tell your friends about your indigestion, "How are you?" is a greeting, not a question. —Boston Transcript.

Why Not Use Dried Fruit?

BY LORETTA C. LYNCH
An Acknowledged Expert in All Matters Pertaining to Household Management.

Some folks have the idea that in order to be effective, fruit must be both juicy and acid. They pass by delicious dried fruits plentiful and cheap enough to delight the heart of the most economical.

All dried fruits, as well as all Oriental fruits like figs, dates and the like, are horrifying dirty. Under the microscope this dirt is highly visible. Therefore, dried fruits must be thoroughly cleaned with a small brush and warm water. I find a new toothbrush desirable.

Then put the fruit to soak in clean cold water in a covered vessel. The fruit may be stewed in this same water when clump and much of the mineral matter that soaks out into the water may thus be conserved. Figs and dates, as well as raisins, should be soaked several times with boiling water and then spread out on a platter to dry.

In cooking any of the "dried and soaked" fruits arrange to cook slowly. This will aid in developing the natural flavor and sweetness. If you must add extra sugar, add it toward the end of the cooking. Less sugar is needed to give the desired sweetness if added at the end of the cooking.

A combination of prunes stewed with raisins and a very little lemon is a pleasing change. A delicious company dessert may be made of prunes combined with lemon gelatin. A hint of lemon gelatin is prepared and allowed to cool, but not necessarily hardened. It is then whipped to a spongy consistency with a Dover egg beater and a cupful of stewed, soaked and mashed prunes is folded in, as well as half a cup of cream whipped until stiff.

A dozen nut meats chopped may be added. The mixture is set aside to thoroughly chill, or it may be packed into molds. It is served with additional whipped cream. This makes twelve servings.

A novel frozen dessert is made by adding a cupful of apricot pulp, obtained by forcing stewed apricots through a strainer, and a cupful of banana pulp to a quart of very sweet lemonade, and then freezing. The lemonade must be over-sweet, as the tongue does not recognize the sweetness of frozen dishes so readily as others.

There are for sale some stoned cherries. Have you seen them? Ten-cent "kork" of these, cleaned and soaked and stewed and sweetened, and their juice thickened with every little cornstarch, will make the filling of a pie such as the caterer sells for one dollar. Try it.

The string figs are cheaper than the ones in pretty boxes. First scrub these and then put them to soak. Stew slowly, adding a little lemon acid if liked. Taste. If not sweet enough, add a little sugar. These are excellent for the first course at breakfast or as a simple dessert topped with whipped cream.

Tradition In The Navy

Decorations on Sailors' Uniform All Have a Meaning.

Traditions plays an important part in the navy. For instance the wide collar on the seaman's shirt remains, though the grease-slashed queue has long been forgotten. Even the U.S. man-o-war's man wears a black band, which is known as the "British sailor put" as on a badge of mourning for Lord Nelson; the three white braids on his collar are said to have been suitably adopted in token of memory of Nelson's victories at Copenhagen, the Battle of the Nile and Trafalgar.

Intelligence of Animals.

"Some animals," wrote the small boy in his composition on the above subject, "are more intelligent than others. I once saw a talking horse at the circus, and father says there were spelling bees when he was young. The only bees I have met so far are the stinging kind."

The Deadly Fly.

The scratch of a lion's claw is almost as deadly as his bite, for he never cleans his nails, and he always carries under them rotting meat that is rank with deadly germs. Flies do the same thing on a smaller scale; and don't forget that they never wipe their feet.—Montreal Herald.

London's Missing.

Every year no fewer than 30,000 persons are reported missing in London alone. Some of the are never seen nor heard of again; others, after weeks or months of absence, return and take up the threads of their former life as if they had never left it.

Germany Lost Her Opportunity

Refused Chance to Make Voluntary Offer to Allies.

The British premier lays open the very core of the problem when he notes the change of attitude in Germany's spokesmen since the first days of their terror when they came as supplicants to Foch on November 11, 1918. Today Berlin is making excuses not merely for delay, but for avoidance of her debts. "She is beginning to challenge her responsibility," he says, and when her representatives "refuse to face their obligations they are cheered, and encouraged and supported."

Germany had an opportunity to make a voluntary offer, but she refused to take advantage of the offer. When forced to take action, the proposals she made were in the words of the British premier "exasperating." Today she is faced with an ultimatum backed by the rifles of Britain and the bayonets of France. If the terms are harsh Germany has only herself to blame.—The Montreal Star.

Armaments and Peace

Old Standards of Sea Power May No Longer Hold.

Both the United States and Japan are building warships rapidly, and if the old standards of sea power are still to be taken as valid, the Empire must be reckoned to the loss of any claim to unchallenged superiority in the chief of the oceans. But it may be that the old standards of sea power hold no longer. Most important are the friendly relations in which the States of the Empire stand both with the United States and with Japan. As for England, the nature of this country and of the Dominions would have to suffer an almost dramatic change before the thought of war at sea between the navies of the English-speaking peoples could emerge from the region of fantastic irreducibility.—London Times.

Pace Does Not Count

British May Move Slowly But They Always Arrive.

The system of constitutional government devised by the British House of Commons has stood the test of time and held the field against all rivals as the best system of government yet established. Right Hon. J. V. Lowther, former speaker in the British House, stated in his address before the Canadian Club of Ottawa. He referred to the many who would desire to make changes and said: "Let us be careful how we lay our hands upon the ark."

The Meaning of Calgary

Name of Alberta City Signifies "Clear Running Water."

The question of the origin of the name "Calgary" came in for some discussion a few months ago. Some papers extracted from the archives of the department of justice at Ottawa and presented to the mayor of the southern city on Friday last have settled the matter. They show that when the mounted police post on the Bow River was established forty-five years ago the inspector stationed there, Brisson, endeavored to have it named after himself. He was overruled, however, by Assistant Commissioner Irvine, who approved of the suggestion made by Colonel McLeod that "Calgary," meaning "clear running water," should be adopted.—From the Edmonton Journal.

Earth Grows Bigger

Increases Half An Inch Every 185 Million Years.

According to calculations made by the experts, no fewer than 460 million meteors drop upon the earth every day. Most people will conclude that all this solid matter must add to the bulk of the earth. And so it does, but it takes a surprisingly long time to make any appreciable difference. No less a period than 185 million years is required for this rain of dust, rock and metal to increase the size of the earth by half an inch.

The Day of Reckoning.

When the British miners finally give in, as they must, and find that when they want to go back to work it will take weeks and maybe months to pump out the mines so that work will be possible, the day of reckoning will come for the fire-eaters who led them into the mess and held them there.—Rochester Democrat.

After Three Years Of Liquid Diet, Kaiser Is Picture Of Health

"I had lived on a liquid diet for three years and my case had twice been pronounced hopeless, but Tanlac has completely overcome my stomach trouble and I eat meat, vegetables and everything else I want now," said Joseph S. Kaiser, a hattermaker, who lives at 331 Beretley St., Winnipeg.

"My trouble dates back to a spell of the flu three years ago and from that time up until I took Tanlac I steadily went down hill. For a whole year I was so weak I couldn't put my foot out of the house and while I spent hundreds of dollars trying to get on my feet, nothing helped me a particle. I just moved around the house so weak I couldn't even lift a shovel of coal. I was suffering nearly every day from dizzy spells, headaches and awful attacks of nervousness. My skin got yellow and I fell off until I was hardly more than a walking skeleton.

"This was the first I was in when a friend called and persuaded me to give Tanlac a trial. He was certainly a friend in need. I improved right from the first dose. I am as sound as a dollar today, have put on twelve pounds in weight and look, so everybody tells me, the very picture of health. I feel twenty years younger and the change in me is so great that my friends who know what a desperate condition I was in see me now are simply amazed. I have never known anything in my whole life to equal it."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

Barnado Boy's Success

Accumulated Fortune of $15,000 In Twenty-Five Years.

A former Barnardo boy, a farm laborer at Bowmanville, Ontario, was killed recently in an accident while working in a barn. He came to Canada twenty-five years ago from England as a boy and up to the time of his death worked as a farm laborer. He left an estate of $15,000; $1,000 he bequeathed to a Bowmanville hospital; $1,000 to the Barnardo Homes in England, and the balance to a brother in England. He came to Canada penniless, and was forty-four years of age at the time of his death.

Canadians in New York celebrated Empire Day. The flag of the Dominion was in evidence at the headquarters of various Canadian organizations and a series of social and patriotic fixtures marked the day.

A Saving Idea.

"The idea of the 'living wage' as something to be adjudged and protected by the whole weight of opinion does seem at last to have got thoroughly into the mind of the mass of people and this, in spite of our present troubles, is count to be one of the great gains of our lifetime."—Westminster Gazette.

Saves Axles and Harness

Wheels turn easier and axles wear longer when they are properly lubricated with Imperial Mica Axle Grease. Its powdered mica flakes form a glassy surface for greases to run over. Thus friction is reduced and wear retarded. It costs less than any other grease because it lasts twice as long.

Imperial Eureka Harness Oil keeps your harness pliable, strong and new-looking. It gives leather a rich, black, lasting finish, protects it from moisture, and adds years to its life. It is easily applied and is a big money-saver on repair bills.

A PLAN FOR LAND SETTLEMENT

The proposal is made to the governments of the prairie provinces by the Western Canada Colonization Association that they, operating by means of land settlement boards, should assume the responsibility of placing upon the land the settlers who may be brought into the country by the association or by other immigration agencies.

The work of securing land for settlers and seeing that they are given every chance for a fair start in their new homes may be found to be the most difficult task in this great enterprise of inducing a stream of directed and selected immigration into the vacant places of the west.

The scheme which has been worked out in considerable detail by the Western Canada Association, bears a very close resemblance to a plan for settling lands which was drafted some three years ago by the Canadian Problems Club of Winnipeg, a study club of Winnipeg citizens representative of business, finance, labor and various professions. Their proposition took the form of definite recommendations which were formally suggested to the governments of the three prairie provinces as the basis for legislation. It is, perhaps, worth recalling that the memorandum, which was made public at the time, was the work of a special committee of the club which comprised the late S. R. Tarr, then editor of Canadian Finance, Vere C. Brown, then superintendent for Western Canada of the Canadian Bank of Commerce and now a high official of the First National Bank of New York; G. F. Chipman and Harold Edwards.

The basic condition of both schemes is that the owners of vacant agricultural land suitable for cultivation shall be required to fix a selling price for such land, which price is to remain fixed for two years. In order to insure that the valuation is not too high it is provided that the taxation on wild lands, which is already part of the taxing programme of all three Western provinces, shall be levied upon the valuation thus made by the owner and not upon the local assessment. Lists of land, thus priced, are to be published and made available for the use of all immigration agencies.

The plan as drafted by the Western Canada Colonization Association, provides machinery for bringing the settler and the land together. It seeks the appointment in each province of a land settlement board operation under the Minister of Agriculture, who is to see that the valuations are made and that the necessary maps and literature containing this legislation are prepared and made available for the use of the prospective immigrant. Provision is also made for the appointment for each parcel of land thus listed of a district agent capable of closing the transaction should a purchaser appear.

Holders of wild land in Western Canada are so desirous of getting rid of the burden of carrying it in the face of the wild lands tax that in the great majority of cases they will be delighted to co-operate with the governments if they can thereby be given assurance that the have a reasonable chance for securing purchasers for their property. Yet there may be criticisms of the project and some of land tax be levied upon this valuation an assessment equal to 100 per cent. of the value of the property is obtained, whereas ordinary municipal assessments are at most not more than about 75 per cent. of the real value. This is a valid objection, assuming the facts as stated are correct, but it can be easily met by, if necessary, a provision that the tax be levied on a specific proportion of the owner's valuation.

The man will be met with who will insist upon what he calls his rights. He will declare that the land is his, that he has paid his good money for it; that if he wants to let it lie fallow it is nobody's business but his own, and that he claims the right to hold it if this is his wish or to sell it for any price he can get for it. It is not clear that the province would be justified in compelling a property-owner holding these views to come into the scheme; but it is clearly within the power of the province to impose a special rate of taxation upon vacant land held out from the operations of the land board that would make the exercise of the time-honored right of doing what one will with his own in disregard of the public interest a fairly expensive proceeding.

But the conditions being what they are, the holders of vacant agricultural land with very few exceptions, will be only too pleased to co-operate in any well-considered scheme calculated to induce settlement. The limitation upon their control over the price of their land as proposed is not serious. It is for a two-year period only, and for the second year an increase covering interest and taxes is allowed. At the end of the two-year period new prices can be fixed. Property owners thus have reasonable protection for their interests. Some of them may be dubious about the possibility of the Western Canada Colonization Association securing settlers in large numbers; but they can well afford to take the slight risk of giving it a chance. Experience of recent years has shown that the private land owner, even when the owner is a powerful and rich land company, can do very little towards securing purchasers from the outside.

Since the disappearance of homestead lands the Government has found it difficult to get settlers of the kind desired because it could not insure them land; while the land owners could not induce immigration because they had not the resources and the machinery to secure and transport settlers. An attempt is now being made to work out a plan by which immigration agencies of all kinds will co-operate in inducing immigration into Western Canada; one of the chief inducements which will be held out to these settlers is to be the assurance that the governments of the provinces accept the responsibility of seeing that they are supplied with land upon reasonable and stable conditions. The effectiveness of the proposition awaits, of course, the actual test of application; but predictions that it will be effective are made by parties not without experience in matters of this kind. In any case, it is the only definite plan before the public; and the alternative is to leave things as they are, which certainly offers no alluring prospect. It is, therefore, desirable that it should be given support and encouragement; and that there be no unnecessary delay in putting it to work. There is no national work of equal importance to that of increasing the producing farming population of the Canadian West.

Renew Your Membership In The RED CROSS

During the war everybody gave to the Red Cross. In these Western Provinces, hundreds of thousands of citizens joined in the greatest flood of gifts ever poured through a single voluntary organization.

Because the need was vital; the emergency ever pressing, there was little formality of membership. Everybody belonged to and was a part of the wartime organization of the Red Cross.

Red Cross now has peace-time duties just as important to humanity as its greatest service of devotion in time of war. The Red Cross Societies of the world have leagued together in a broad-gauge, carefully planned continuous campaign—

For the Improvement of Health, the Prevention of Disease and the Mitigation of Suffering Throughout the World.

This work is to be carried out at home, here in our own country by our own Red Cross and simultaneously in every one of the thirty-one countries associated in the World League of Red Cross Societies. The Red Cross peace-time crusade for good health is separate and distinct from the war work of the Red Cross or the great task which it is still carrying on, growing out of its care of those who suffered in the war. To endorse, support and carry on its peace programme the Red Cross asks the approval of every citizen through the enrolment of his or her individual membership. The Membership Fee is $1.00 per year. The payment of this dollar when you enroll your name is all the money the Red Cross is asking of you.

Enroll

As the outward and visible sign of your faith in the Red Cross, your participation in its good work, your support of its world-wide mission for the improvement of conditions under which humanity lives.

Enrolment Dates, June 5th-11th.

DO YOU REQUIRE Hay See Herb. Smith Town

HOW TO CARE FOR THE CHICKS ON THE RANGE

(Experimental Farm Notes)
The care of the chicks while on the broader stage is most important, for at that time the largest mortality occurs, yet the subsequent care of the chicks that have lived through the broader stage has very much to do with the success or failure of the birds later.

Plenty of Heat

Do not cut down the heat too soon until the chicks are well feathered, and even after that if the weather is cold and changeable, they will require a certain amount of heat, whether they are raised naturally or artificially.

The hen will probably leave the chicks to themselves by the time they are feathered, sometimes even before, and it is well to have the chicks housed in a fairly comfortable coop or colony house, so that when the hen leaves them they will be quite comfortable and can get along without her.

The same care as to heat and comfortable rearing quarters should be given to the chicks that heat, when nights are still cold, often results in the chicks becoming chilled, crowding into a corner and a number of them being smothered. Those that survive are more or less stunted because of the chill.

It is never advisable to rear chicks in the same yards or on the same soil that the old hens have used. Give them new soil that is sweet and free from disease germs. Such a place as a cultivated orchard, potato patch, root or corn field, or in fact any place where there is a growing crop of such a nature that they cannot destroy it will be an ideal spot for the chicks.

During the warmer months shade is very important. This can be provided by the growing crop, orchard, shrubs or even the raising of the house and in some cases, along with this, artificial shade made from boughs or cotton screens are good.

In feeding and caring for the growing chicks it should be borne in mind that the chief aim is to have matured pullets so that they will commence to lay before the winter season comes on. The feeder should keep this in mind and feed the birds accordingly. Early chicks may be fed so that they will mature too early for best all-round production, and it is well to keep in mind that though this is an exception, still the pullet that starts laying the latter part of October or the first of November is usually the pullet that gives the best yearly production and certainly yields a better revenue than the pullet that does not start laying until the season of high prices for eggs is over.

SMASHING BACK

"What won the war? (No, we didn't say "who won the war?" That's been settled.) What won the war? Why our everlasting keeping on the offensive—by smashing back at Ypres—at Festubert—at St. Eloi—at Vimy—at Passchendaele and at Mons. We never admitted, we never thought of defeat. We kept on the offensive. We smashed back night raids in mines—in barages and in bombing raids. Did we ever lose a chance to smash back at the Boche? You bet we didn't—and we won out.

Do you get the idea? Your enemy is dull trade, poor business, slow turnover, slack times. You have to keep forever on the offensive against him. To keep him on the run you have to smash back with better advertising in The Star than through one of a barrage of direct mail and you've won out. Business success is yours.

EVERY CHILD BORN WORTH OPPORTUNITY SOUND LIFE START

"You cannot maintain an A-1 empire with a C-3 population. You cannot bring up healthy people in unhealthy homes," is one of the famous sayings uttered by Premier Lloyd George in a notable speech during the progress of the war, and this declaration is the backbone of the peace time health campaign being effected by the Canadian Red Cross, in the Dominion wide enrolment campaign which is being inaugurated during the latter part of May and the beginning of June, to secure the largest number of members for the society.

"Every child born in Canada should have an opportunity of starting in life in sound physical health, of growing to maturity in and through the healthful exercise of its powers and then of continuing to live in good health under wholesome conditions until the full course of life is run," says Dr. Jas. W. Robertson, Chairman of the Canadian Red Cross. Continuing he says: "Towards that end the Red Cross call upon all intelligent men and women to join the crusade for good health and to join the Red Cross which can do more good for the country in peace time than it was able to accomplish in war."

Public spirited men who were connected with this vast organization during the war realized the vast mission that it would be called upon to fulfil when the war was over and the campaign that will be inaugurated next month is the initial step in turning the organization into peace time work. The project is meeting with approval across the Dominion, judging from reports which are already being received and organization officials predict that the result will be distinctly reassuring.

The dates for the Red Cross Enrolment in Western Canada are June 5 to 11.

CONSISTENT POLICY OF HOME BUYING CREATES FRIENDS

When you send your dollar off to some mail order house or distant store, you get what you pay for and no more. The fluffy-haired girl who handles it cares nothing for you. The merchant whom you helped to enrich never hears of you. The transaction has no aftermath, except possibly the effort to return an unsatisfactory purchase.

When you buy goods at home you make business ties. The proprietor and his clerks want to keep your trade and will return your favors in any way that he can. A consistent policy of home buying creates a circle of loyal business friends. If you are in business for yourself in your home town, this is absolutely necessary to success. And it is exceedingly helpful to anyone else.

Success comes largely by favor. Many fellows wonder how some fellows get along so easily. Usually there is no magic or secret about it. They have been trying all their lives to make friends. If they have anything to sell, whether a line of merchandise or personal services, a host of their neighbors around them are glad to turn things their way. Buying goods in one's home town is the simplest and easiest way to create friendly business relations. And it costs nothing.

We are tempted to speak a word to our merchants. We do it only with the best intentions. We are thankful that you have placed your advt. in our columns. Our many wide-awake readers will see it and they will read it. If the merchants wish to keep trade at home, they must, of course, let the public know what goods and what inducements they offer. The great merchants of our larger cities are constantly advertising at an enormous expense, but it pays them; and it was by shrewd advertising that they became so successful. They cannot afford to stop, or else they would. Our merchants can't afford to stop advertising in their local paper. Advertising pays even if you have no competition.

THE BUFFALO SLAYERS

A Tale of One Hundred Years Ago

In a book entitled, "The Romantic Settlement of Lord Selkirk's Colonists," the following story is told of a buffalo hunt on a grand scale. There were nearly two thousand people engaged in it, and it is said that it was probably the largest hunt on record. They journeyed two hundred and fifty miles to reach the hunting grounds.

At eight o'clock the whole cavalcade broke ground and made for the buffaloes. The horse men started, the buffaloes were about a mile and a half distant but when they approached to within four or five hundred yards the bulls curled their tails or pawed the ground. In a moment the herd took flight, and horse and rider were presently seen bursting upon them, shots were heard, and all was smoke, dust, and hurry, and in less time than has been occupied with the description a thousand carcasses strewn the plain.

When the rush was made, the earth seemed to tremble, as the horses started, but when the animals fled, it was like the shock of an earthquake. The air was darkened, the rapid firing soon became more and more faint, and at last died away in the distance.

In such a run, a good horse and experienced rider will select and kill from ten to twelve buffaloes at one heat, but in the case before us the surface was rocky and full of badger holes. Twenty-three horses and riders were at one moment all sprawling on the ground, one horse, gored by a bull, was killed on the by the fall. One rider broke his shoulder-blade another burst his gun, and lost three fingers by the accident, another was struck on the knee by an antelope. In the evening, no less than 1375 buffalo tongues were brought to camp.

When the run is over, the last animal killed is the first skinned and night often surprises the runner at his work. What remains is lost, and falls to the wolves. Hundreds of dead buffaloes are often abandoned, for even a thunderstorm in one hour will render the meat useless.

After the hunt the task of the Indian women begins, who do all the rest, and who with skins and meat and fat, their duty is a most laborious one.

This expedition killed nearly three thousand buffaloes, and out of all these were made three hundred and seventy-five bags of pemmican and two hundred and forty bales of dried meat, seven hundred and fifty animals should have made that amount, so that a great quantity was wasted. Of course, the buffalo skins were saved, and had their value.—The Western Veteran.

RURAL CREDITS

No person conversant with rural conditions will deny that there is a great need for a system of rural credits which will be a sort of happy medium between our banking system and the long term mortgage system. The farmer needs financial assistance for periods longer than those which good banking permits and shorter than the five-year-term which mortgage companies usually require. A system which would provide loans for periods ranging from one to three years would be a great boon to the farming community generally.

It is often urged on the public platform by farmer representatives that the Canadian banking system has signally failed to meet the requirements of the farmer, but careful study of the facts shows that this is not fair criticism and in many instances it is based on misconception of the powers of the chartered banks. Our prominent bankers agree that there is a great field for financial institutions in rural credit banking but it is a difficult problem to handle. No matter how much our banks would like to handle loans for periods of two or three years the banking laws of the country will not permit them to do so and furthermore sound banking would not permit them to loan deposits subject to withdrawal at a moment's notice on loans for lengthy periods.

The Manitoba government has made a laudable attempt to solve the rural credit problem and has thus far been reasonably successful, but it would seem that the real solution must depend upon co-operation between the bank bankers and the farmers. If the farmers in a district would combine and guarantee the payment at maturity of all loans made by the banks to the farmers in the district, success would in all probability ensue, it being understood that all loans advanced would be subject to the approval of the farmers as a whole or their duly elected representatives. In a new country such as this there must be co-operation between the farmers and the bankers if the greatest measure of success is to be achieved and the introduction of provincial government paternalism. The great need of this and all other countries is to have less of the government in our business and more of business in our government.

Sometimes we imagine the office girl marries the boss's employer to get a chance to turn the tables.

Join the Red Cross

When the Great War ended—yes, even before the joyful news of the signing of the Armistice—the statesmen and thoughtful men of all countries turned their attention to a consideration of the gigantic problem confronting civilization in the repair of the awful damage inflicted on the world. It was not the material damage so much, but the cause of deep concern, for, given time and money, destroyed cities, towns, industrial establishments, railways, mines and home buildings could be restored.

The real problem were the people themselves. With millions of the world's most able-bodied and virile young men killed, or maimed and weakened for life; with millions of women hopeless nervous wrecks as a result of the strain and hardships and sorrows through which they had passed; with millions of babies and young children under-nourished during the most vital years when wholesome food and plenty of it should have been forthcoming; and with the mental view of everybody far from normal, in many ways distorted, what all thoughtful men and women asked themselves, of the future of the race, mentally, morally, physically? And if the races weak in these respects, what of the State itself, because, after all, a nation is just what its people are. It is not wealth, or great industries, or large cities, or famous buildings that make a nation, but the people themselves.

The war had made vividly clear some things which a quarter of a century of peace might not have revealed with so much impressiveness. The war had given us a revelation, for it may fittingly be called a revelation, of the relative worth and ability of the ordinary man and woman. During the war the ordinary soldier, seaman and airman stuck to their duties and did them with a courage and endurance which have never been surpassed. The spirit of the race had not decayed. But the war had revealed also the shockingly poor physical condition of a great proportion of the men in all countries. In the alleged progress of civilization, in the organization of industries, in the development of big business for creating and controlling wealth, regard for the intrinsic worth of human life—of men and women in good health—living and working under wholesome conditions—had been to a large extent neglected.

Think of the significance of these figures: During the last year of war the number of men called up to the army in Great Britain was 2,425,184. Out of every nine men, there were five fit and healthy, two were in inferior health, three might be described as physical wrecks and one as a chronic invalid with a precarious hold on life. Since that was the physical condition of men at their most vigorous age, what would be the condition of health among the women and children? In other countries the examination of the men called to the colors revealed conditions somewhat similar. In Canada, with all her advantages of open spaces and outdoor lives, of the 362,605 draftees under the Military Service Act, 181,229, or about one-half, were found to be unfit for full service. Even without war the races seemed to be heading for physical deterioration and disaster.

As a result of these shocking and altogether alarming disclosures when the Covenant of the League of Nations was drafted, Article XXV, was inserted which binds every nation, joining the League to encourage and promote a national Red Cross Society having as purposes "the improvement of health, the prevention of disease, and the mitigation of suffering throughout the world." The Red Cross is the only organization in the world, because of its international character, its splendid organization, and its wonderful record during the war.

It is the profound conviction of those who are impressed with the importance and possibilities of the ideals expressed in the Red Cross programme as above outlined that their realization is possible through the endorsement and support which universal membership in the Red Cross alone can give. Widespread and ship in the Red Cross is the only organization, therefore, the necessary condition of success in its Peace-time programme.

To attain that universal membership, a world-wide enrolment campaign is being held this year. The dates in the three Prairie Provinces of Canada are June 5 to 11. Membership in the Red Cross involves an annual fee of one dollar for adults, and of twenty-five cents for boys and girls under 18 years of age, but this is the only—and incidental—financial aspect of the membership enrolment campaign.

It is the infinitely interesting and active sympathy, the whole-hearted support of all people in a nation-wide, yes, world-wide, Crusade for Good Health that the Red Cross desires, and to assure this it asks every man, woman and child to join the Red Cross during the week of June 5 to 11.

Following all previous wars, the Red Cross with its work for the time being completed, fell into a state of disorganization. When the war drums sounded in 1914, the Red Cross had to undertake all the work of home organization before it could begin its work for the soldiers in the field. Now, however, while carrying on its great Peace-time programme for the welfare and betterment of all mankind, it will be maintained fully organized, efficient and ready to act should Canada ever again be called to arms.

The Red Cross demonstrated that it was worthy of support during the war. Having now highly resolved to dedicate itself to the task of carrying out the obligations imposed upon it in the Covenant of the League of Nations, it can be trusted to faithfully endeavor to render its Peace-time service to Canada and its people. Therefore—Join the Red Cross.

A resolution urging the Federal Government to extend the Yukon trunk road and telegraph system to Fort Norman oil fields in the Mackenzie Valley was unanimously adopted by the Yukon Legislature. The present system, the resolution states, now reaches within 360 miles of Fort Norman, thus necessitating building only the last remaining link to give through connections to the coast at Skagway, where large liners ply, connecting with Prince Rupert and Vancouver, the year round.

France and Poland lead by large majorities the other continental nations in Europe in military effectiveness now under arms, according to British statistics. The table of the continental armies is as follows:

Austria, 30,000; Belgium, 105,000; Bulgaria, 33,000; Czechoslovakia, 147,000; Denmark, 15,000; Finland, 35,000; France, 800,652; Germany, 100,000; Greece, 250,000; Hungary, 35,000; Italy, 300,000; Netherlands, 21,000; Norway, 15,000; Poland, 600,000; Portugal, 30,000; Spain, 190,475; Sweden, 56,200; Switzerland, 200,000; Serb-Croat-Slovene State, 200,000.

France controls approximately two-thirds of the slightly more than 3,000,000 men ready for service today in Europe. It was pointed out, by her understandings with Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Rumania and Yugoslavia.

It is not only good for the children when taken with colds and croup, and for the nature who suffer from pains and aches, but there are directions for its use on sick cattle. There should always be a bottle of it in the house.

Will Complete The "Bismarck"

Belfast Shipbuilders Will Take Over Ship Left Incomplete By Germans.

Messrs. Harland and Wolff, the Belfast shipbuilders, are to send a party of experts to Hamburg to supervise the completion of the Bismarck, the biggest ship in the world, which is to be the White Star Majestic.

She was specially mentioned in the Peace Treaty, and it was agreed that she should be completed and delivered to Great Britain.

But progress has been very slow, and there have never been more than two or three hundred men working on her. A fire in October caused further delay.

Germany has excused herself by saying that she has been unable to get anything like definite instructions from the Allies.

For long it was doubtful whether any company would buy her, but at last the White Star came to terms and obtained her as a counterblast to the purchase of the Imperator, 4,000 tons smaller, by the Cunard line.

A Friend To the Aged!

When men and women get past middle life, their energy and activity, in many instances, begin to decline, and their general vitality is on the wane.

The heart action becomes weak and uncertain and the nerves more or less unsteady.

Little sicknesses and ailments seem to multiply in the old, and it is here and there and evidence of a breakdown begin to appear.

Those who wish to maintain their health and vigor and retain their energy unimpaired should use Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

They make the heart beat strong and regular, brace up and invigorate the nervous system, improve the memory, and impart a sense of buoyancy to the entire system.

Mrs. James Perry, Retlaw, Alta., writes: "Some months ago I was not feeling well, my heart bothered me quite a lot, and my whole system seemed out of order. I sent and got two boxes of your pills. I took them a few days and my whole system was in the groove. I had taken the two boxes I felt so much better. I quit them. Now I take them at intervals, and am fine although 72 years of age."

Price 50c a box at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

What Strikes Really Mean

Merely An Attempt to Get Behind Constitutional Government.

There can no longer be any pretence about the character of the present labor troubles. It is an attempt to get behind constitutional government. Wages are not the issue; conditions of labor are not in dispute; the primary object is direct action for a purpose which, conceals the whole community. Let the miners' leaders succeed in their challenge, and they will prove that they and not the government and parliament, are the ultimate arbiters of our destiny. It is possible, too, to trace the most malignant influences in the action of the extremists, to whom on this occasion the responsible leaders have made surrender.

Disturbing Element.—A well-to-do Scottish woman one day said to her gardener: "Man Tammas, I wonder you don't get married. You've a nice house, and all you want to complete it is a wife. You know the first gardener that ever lived had a wife."

"Quite right, missus, quite right," said Thomas, "but he didn't keep his job long after he got the wife." The Watchman-Examiner, New York.

After a woman says: "There's no use talking," she keeps right on.

Fire Protection in Finland

Government Compels Every Building To Have A Ladder.

Finland takes more precautions than any other nation to protect itself against fire. Indeed, it is a nation of fire-escapes, for by government enactment it is compulsory for any building or dwelling to be equipped with means by which the occupants can escape in the event of an outbreak of fire. Ladder-making for domestic use is one of the country's most profitable industries. From the most palatial to the lowliest every home in the country must have its ladder reposing against the wall on the outside or lying along the ground within easy reach.

The government regulation, which makes it compulsory for the owners of every building to provide it with a ladder, is an old one; and is an echo of the days when the houses and towns of the country were entirely of wood. Modern building construction of stone and brick has made no change in the law.

WHEN BABY IS SICK

When the baby is sick—when he is cross and peevish; cries a great deal and is restless; when he has a fever—needs Baby's Own Tablets. The Tablets are an ideal medicine for little ones. They are a gentle but thorough laxative which regulates the bowels, sweetens the stomach, banishes constipation and indigestion, breaks up colds and simple fevers and makes teething easy. Concerning them, Mrs. Philippe Payen, St. Plavien, Que., writes: "My baby's Own Tablets have been a wonderful help to me in the case of my baby and I can strongly recommend them to other mothers." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Alberta Erecting Wireless Station

Will Be Tallest and Most Powerful in Province.

With six aeroplane hangars already erected on the High River government aerodrome field in Southern Alberta, with the office building completed, the tenders for the erection of the most powerful wireless station in the province and the workshops have just been received, and it is expected that work will start on these projects within the next two or three weeks.

The wireless station will be able to send messages to Vancouver and over the Pacific coast, and will be taller and more powerful than any yet erected in this province. The pole will have been erected within about ten days.

The six hangars now completed on the field are modern Bessmer hangars, which were brought over from France, where they were used by the Royal Air Force during the war. Each of them will accommodate about three aeroplanes.

Alien Relatives Barred By States.—Aliens resident in the United States have no legal right to demand the admittance of relatives, the Supreme Court in Washington has ruled in upholding decisions of California courts in the appeal of a Chinaman who sought to bring his wife and two minor children with him on his return to the country from a visit to China. The immigration authorities refused to admit them.

How It Is Done.—"Dear me, how closely the poor cows are crowded together!" she remarked.

"Yes," he said, "but you see, we're obliged to pack them close."

"Why?" "So that they'll give condensed milk," he said, without a blush.

Mammoth Trees.—The mammoth tree of California, the giant of the famous coniferous grove at Calaveras, is 327 feet high by 90 feet circumference. It is believed to be 3,000 to 4,000 years old.

The University of Calcutta has 26,000 students, the largest enrolment of any university in the British Empire.

Snake shooting is a favorite pastime of the Bedouin inhabitants of Palestine.

Truth is stranger than fiction to many people, probably because they don't care for an introduction.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON FOR MAY 29.

CHRIST PICTURES A REAL NEIGHBOR.

I. Christ Questioned (Luke 10:25-29).

1. By whom (v. 25). A certain lawyer. He was not a lawyer in the modern sense of that term; most nearly corresponds to our theological professors.

2. The purpose of (v. 25). It was to tempt Jesus as to whether He was really learned in the law; and also to entrap Him to show Him to be heterodox.

3. The question (v. 25). "What shall I do to inherit eternal life?" Though a lawyer, his theology was defective. He thought eternal life was to be obtained by doing. The very words he used involved a contradiction. He was inquiring, not obtained by doing, but by being.

4. Jesus' reply (v. 26-29). He cited him to the law. This is the proper place to send one who is expecting to get eternal life by doing. The lawyer answered well, for supreme love to God and love to one's neighbor as he loves himself is the sum total of human obligation. "This do and thou shalt live." But this is the very thing he could not do. Man needs God's enabling grace to love at all; so he stood condemned by his own conscience enlightened by the law. He set out to trap Jesus, and now he is caught in a trap, and in order to justify himself he said to Jesus, "Who is my neighbor?" The question is answered in the story of the Good Samaritan.

11. Playing the Neighbor (v. 30-37). In this story of the Good Samaritan the question is shifted so as to make clear that the supreme question is not, "Who is my neighbor?" but "Whose neighbor am I?"

To be a neighbor is—

1. To see those about us who need help (v. 33). We should be on the lookout for those in need of help; and love is keen to discern need.

2. Have compassion on the needy (v. 33). Since Christ is the compassionate One, all who have His nature will be likewise moved when they see need.

3. Go to those in need (v. 34). The personal touch many times is more important than material aid. It is easier to give money than personal aid. The true neighbor gives both.

4. Bind up wounds (v. 34). Willingness to deny ourselves in order to help others is a proof of the genuineness of love.

5. Bring to the inn and take care of him (v. 34). The true neighbor is not spasmodic in his giving help.

6. Give money (v. 35). It costs much to be a neighbor. Love is the most expensive thing in the world. It cost God His only Son; it cost Jesus His life. May we go and do likewise!

111. The Behavior of the Early Church (Acts 2:44-47). They were together because they were baptized into one body of which Christ was head by the Holy Spirit (1 Cor. 12:13). The oneness of the body was "as by the breaking of bread."

Such unity is only possible to believers in Christ; that is, those regenerated by the Holy Ghost. To get unity, therefore, in the neighborhood we must get people to be saved.

12. Had a community of goods (v. 44, 45). They sold their possessions and goods and parted them to all men as every man had need. This proved that they were under the power of the Holy Spirit, that is, that the supernatural was being manifested; for it is not natural to abandon one's title of possession.

13. They were filled with gladness and singleness of heart (v. 46). Those who were really born again have no ulterior motive. What they seem to be, they really are. Unsaved men and women are controlled by selfish interests; they seek their own, not another's good. This they do while feigning love for others!

14. Praising God and having favor with all the people (v. 47). Such unselfishness gained the attention of the people and induced them to yield themselves to God, who added daily such as were being saved.

Reindeer Attracted By Settlers.—According to visitors from the Athabasca reindeer, which has not been seen in that section of the province for several years, are reported travelling by groups of ten and fifteen and have apparently been attracted by the strange sight of new settlements.

Beaver and wolves, which years ago were quite numerous, are growing very scarce. Fishing is reported to be exceptionally good in the same region this year.

Crude Oil in Ontario.—While digging a well four miles north of the steel plant at Sault Ste. Marie, crude oil was struck on the Jamieson farm. Two new companies have been formed to handle same, but until an analysis is made, the quality cannot be determined. Much interest has been aroused and many prominent oil men have visited the scene of the new discovery during the past week.

Good Canadian Citizens

Scandinavians Are Hardworking and Intensely Patriotic.

A most gratifying feature of Scandinavian settlement in Canada is that it is almost wholly agricultural, and in the west they will be found in the richest and most progressive districts. While retaining their national individuality, their customs, language and religion, they are British in sentiment and intensely patriotic, as their fine contribution to Canada's army evidenced. With an inherent realization of their own worth, they stand, without embarrassment, upon their own feet, and are absorbed as Canadians without losing their individual qualities. Clean-blooded, thrifty, ambitious and hardworking, they are of the best of Europe's contribution to a pioneer nation.

DIET NOT EVERYTHING IN KEEPING HEALTHY

Your table may be loaded with food digestible and wholesome, yet you don't get strong. What's the trouble? The liver is lazy, stomach is overloaded, the bowels are not active. Relief is quickly supplied by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They make weak sickly people strong and well because they keep the system free of impurities. Those who regulate the system with Dr. Hamilton's Pills don't have indigestion or constipated headaches, their feet are kept in smooth running order. To revitalize and stimulate your whole being, to shake off lethargy and listlessness, nothing compares with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which certainly bring good looks, good spirits, good health. 25c all dealers, or The Catarhazone Co., Montreal.

Important Discovery Aids Crime Detection

Frenchman Says Finger Prints Are Not Only Means.

"An important addition to crime-detection is reported from Paris," says the "Scientific American."

This new plan supplements the Bertillon system of measurements and finger prints. It has been found that a man can be traced not by finger prints alone, but by marks on any part of the body. Any of the pores of the skin may be employed. This is the discovery of Dr. Loeard, head of the French Police School at Lyons. Criminals often use gloves to foil detectives, but the forearm or the elbow may give a print equally as valuable as identification.

Experienced Agriculturists For West.—Conducted parties of immigrants is the order of the day. On board the Canadian Pacific steamer "Scandinavian" which arrived during the week from Antwerp, were fifty Dutch farmers, a land party, bound for Ontario and the Canadian West.

On the "Metagama" of the same company was a party of sixty English girls travelling under the auspices of the Overseas Settlement Board, and a party of about the same size of experienced agriculturists bound for western farms.

Metal arches spanning the strings have been patented to keep the bow in the right place on the strings of a violin for a person learning to play that instrument.

Pottery Company Gets Big Order

An order for several hundred dollars' worth of teapots has been placed by the Canadian Pacific Railway with a local pottery company. The teapots will be used in the Canadian Pacific hotels at Calgary, Banff, Lake Louise, Steamboat, and for the railway's dining car service. The pottery filled a sample order of these goods last year and the result is an order several times as great as the sample order.

The Poor Man's Friend.—Put up in small bottles that are easily portable and sold for a very small sum, Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil possesses power in concentrated form. Aggricultural Societies Active.—There are now 141 agricultural societies with charters and eleven unchartered, in Saskatchewan according to the report on the work of the Extension Department of the College of Agriculture. The department co-operated in 140 summer exhibitions and conducted 34 ploughing matches. There were 32 competitions for standing crops, nine for summerfallow and four for seed drilling. The department also took part in six spring station shows and 21 co-operative sales of livestock, while 44 seed fairs were conducted.

World Happenings Briefly Told

The Cunard steamship line has reopened its office in Berlin.

It is unofficially stated that at a British naval conference at Singapore, plans were formulated for combined action by the Indian, Chinese, and Australian squadrons in the event of war.

The port zone at Buenos Aires, which has been closed since late in March by the boycott of the Port Laborers' Union, has been re-opened. The union laborers returned to work but only ten of the huge fleet of tied up ships accepted their services.

The body of eight-year-old Lily Manning, who fell into a sewer on St. James street, Montreal, on March 10 last, was recovered in the St. Lawrence River, near the Montreal Cotton Mills at the foot of Harbor Street, Hochelaga.

The secretary general of the League of Nations has called an international conference to be held in Geneva on June 30, to bring together the views of the various governments on the question of repression of white slavery.

Adam Philipchuk, shoemaker, charged with stealing 700 bushels of wheat, and Mike Grigorew, farmer, charged with concealing $5,000 of assets, were arrested at Vernon, Calif., at the request of the British Consul-General and are held for return to Perdue, Sask.

Hon. Geo. H. Macdonald, provincial minister of agriculture, and John Bracken, of Manitoba Agricultural College, will go to Ottawa early in June to discuss the matter of federal aid to the development of agriculture in the province with the Dominion Cabinet.

With electric power cut off the editor of the Rock River, Wyo., Review, got out his paper by jacking up an automobile and rigging up a belt over the rear wheel to the cylinder press. Soldiers surprised a party of civilians destroying the Ballycathry Bridge near Tralee. One of the civilians was killed, two wounded and nine captured.

Scheme To Drain Alberta Lakes

Would Mean Thousands of Acres Reclaimed For Cultivation.

Twenty-three thousand acres may be added to the cultivable area in the Morinville district, east of Edmonton, by the draining of the Manawaka Lake. This is the largest of the proposed drainage schemes in Central Alberta in connection with which reconnaissance surveys are to be undertaken this summer and autumn.

Surveys are also being undertaken on Chilly Lake which covers about 19,000 acres and on Lanes Lake, covering about three thousand acres in an excellent mixed farming district of Central Alberta.

If the projects are found to be practicable and to warrant reclamation operations being undertaken ditching schemes will probably be put in hand next year.

Sends Ontario Corn to Germany.

Sending seed corn from Blenheim to Germany is something new, yet it has been done in Danzig, Germany, for experimental purposes. The corn was in Ontario, and who for a number of years has been shipping export to Eastern Ontario, to points in the United States and elsewhere, has received an order for seed corn from Danzig, Germany, for experimental purposes. The corn was carefully prepared and forwarded.

TOBACCO HEART

Every Smoker Read This

Tobacco does not seem to affect all alike. Many men enjoy their smoke, live to a good old age, and apparently suffer no ill-effects from the use of the weed.

There are others, though, on whose heart and nerves it has a most serious effect. It causes palpitation, pain in the heart, and irregularity of its beat. It makes the hands tremble, stunts the nerves on edge, and causes shortness of breath and loss of sleep.

To counteract this demoralizing influence on the heart and nerves there is no remedy so effective as Minard's Heart and Nerve Pills.

They make the heart beat strong and steady, restore tone and vigor to the nerves, and remove all the evil results caused by the tobacco.

Mr. D. McKillop, Cochrane, N.S., writes:—I was used to much tobacco, and got so I could not sleep at night, my hands used to tremble so much, my heart used to suffer terribly from pains in my heart. I told a friend about it, and he advised me to get your Minard's Heart and Nerve Pills. I took two boxes and they gave great satisfaction.

Monkey Business.

An auto tourist was travelling through the great Northwest, when he met with a slight accident to his machine. In some way he had mislaid his monkey-wrench so he stopped at a nearby farmhouse, where the following conversation took place between him and the Swede farmer:

"Have you a monkey-wrench here?"

"Now, my brother he got a 'cattle reaper over there; my ax is gone, but I can't find it further down that road, but too cold here for monkey reaper."

Should Have Been a Scot

Scotchman Thought Shakespeare Too Intelligent To Be English.

He was an enthusiastic Scot, and he was arguing with an Englishman over the merits of their respective countries. Military powers, brilliance in invention, engineering, travel and empire-building had all been passed in review, and the Scot had won hands down. Eventually the Englishman sought refuge in literature.

"Well, the 'old literature,' interrupted the Scot, 'there's Robbie Burns, Walter Scott, Stevenson, Hugh Miller, Barrie—that's just mentioning a few at random—a Scots!'"

"Yes, yes, but wait a bit," protested the Englishman. "There is one greater than all these put together—William Shakespeare. You wouldn't suggest he was a Scotsman, would you?"

"Well," thoughtfully responded the Scot. "I wadna precisely say that. But the man's intelligence was far most warrant the inference."

Girl Flyer Breaks Record

Looped the Loop 199 Times in Eighty Minutes.

Miss Laura Brownell, a slim young woman of 23, who looks as if she could play a good game of croquet, climbed into the rear cockpit of a big Curtiss standard biplane at Curtis Field, Garden City, soared up to 8,000 feet and started looping the loop, an hour and twenty minutes later, she had shattered her own world's record for a woman pilot by more than one hundred. In the eighty minutes she looped 199 times.

School Morals

Depend Almost Entirely on Character Of Town Or City.

As long as the responsible leaders in a city or town tolerate bad conduct, a generally compromising moral tone, the schools are certain to manifest the same tendency. The child is supposed to emerge from the home equipped with the best standards of the home, but in the schools, particularly in the high schools, the atmosphere is the sum of the home, and the child seeks the level thus determined. It all comes back to the character of the town, and this to a large extent is determined by the attitude of public officials, particularly those charged with law enforcement. It is at the polls that a town bares its soul, and the revelation will be encouraging when the citizen boldly votes his conscience.—Indianapolis News.

The Saddest Faces

Said to be of Men Who Have Stopped Working.

If any man of 60 or 70 who has acquired a competence thinks of retiring without having planned a good campaign for his later years let him ride up Riverside Drive and look at the men who retired just because they thought it was time to quit. They sit on the benches in the sunshine or ride back and forth in their cars. Their faces are the saddest in the world. They might be amateur gardeners, book collectors, almoners, workers for civil betterment, fly casters, chess fends or amateur cabinet makers. Or they might be happy back at the factory. But they are anything but waters on the inevitable.

Saskatchewan Fears

Grave Hopper Plague

Report States Outbreak More Extensive Than in 1920.

Grasshopper eggs are hatching on the higher lighter soils in South Saskatchewan, according to a report received by the Winnipeg Free Press from the editor of publications for the Saskatchewan Government, Regina. The report goes on to state that the numbers so far are not large, but with warm weather millions of locusts will be emerging from the ground in more than a hundred municipalities.

From surveys carried out by 22 field representatives of the Saskatchewan department of agriculture, covering a territory from north of Saskatoon south through the Moose Jaw and Regina areas to the international and Manitoba boundaries, it appears certain that a more extensive outbreak will occur this year than 1920.

Taffeta Wrap Topped With Brocade

By Marie Belmont.

Apple blossom pink is the color of the taffeta used in this engaging summer wrap. Tier upon tier the silk is arranged so that the topmost tier is much narrower than those below. They are lined with pale blue georgette, which is apparent when the wearer winds her wrap about her.

The upper part is fashioned from a rich piece of brocade. In this threads of gold and silver delicately outline the green foliage and the strange looking flowers of pink and blue. One may glimpse a flash of this only occasionally, for a spreading collar of the taffeta partly conceals it.

Inventor of T.N.T.

Visiting Canada

Was Chief of British Chemical Department During War.

A memorable visit to Ottawa culminated in the reception given Prof. Chaim Weizmann, says the Ottawa Citizen. Prof. Weizmann, inventor of T.N.T., and head of the World Zionist Organization, was received at the home of Mrs. A. J. Feiman, 149 Somerset Street, and greeted by 500 persons, comprising the leaders of the Jewish and some of its leading citizens.

"Dr. Weizmann made an excellent impression," says the Citizen, "fraternizing with ease and grace with all. Naturally there were many who wished to address the leader of Jewry, and to all he gave gracious audience. Tall, serious of mien, he entered into the spirit of the occasion with an easiness and a poise that endeared him to all."

"Mrs. Weizmann, too, appeared particularly engaging. She is a doctor of medicine, and rendered valuable assistance to the British cause during the war by taking command of a large hospital during this period. Thus, while her husband was chief of the chemical department in the British admiralty and adviser, Mrs. Weizmann lent her energies to administering to the soldiers fighting for the empire."

A Meal of Cut Worms.

C. A. Nash, of Toronto, records an experiment with the robin as a cut worm destroyer. One young robin, kept in confinement, ate 166 cut worms in a day. Had he been compelled to find his own food he would probably have varied it somewhat, as he would not likely find so many cut worms. What he could do when he had the opportunity was clearly demonstrated.

Will Plant Corn and Sunflowers.

Considerable acreage near Lethbridge will be planted to corn by former North Dakota farmers, who raised it very successfully there and feel certain that they will make a success of it here. There will also be a good addition to the area planted in sunflowers this spring.

Many do not realize, however, that there is one remedy which will relieve this drain. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy is a check to this devastating ailment. It has a countless record of relief to its credit. It is sold almost everywhere.

Noble Foundation Not Insolvent.

Denial that the Noble Foundation, the big farming concern south of Calgary, is going into liquidation has been made. It was stated that a receiver had been appointed as a friend of the management between the farming company and one or two of its large creditors. The company was by no means insolvent, it was stated.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON FOR JUNE 5.

MAKING THE NATION CHRISTIAN.

Not "Making the Nation Christian," if the lesson committee please. Neither of the passages chosen for today's lesson has any bearing on the title chosen by the committee. However, they do set forth some important teachings regarding the nation, and the teacher should carefully bring out their vital meaning. The New Testament nowhere teaches that any nation will be made Christian in this dispensation; but rather that Christ is gathering out from among the nations the people who shall constitute His church, showing that God's purpose is the salvation of individuals.

I. "Blessed is the Nation Whose God is the Lord (Psa. 33:12).

This verse shows Israel's peculiar distinction. Israel is the only nation of which, in name even, it could be said that Jehovah was its God. He called this nation into being for a peculiar purpose. It was not a case where a nation chose God, but where God chose a nation for His own inheritance. It would be blessed to have an inheritance in God, but the nation which today gives God His rightful place in its affairs shall be singularly blessed. America has been singularly blessed in the times when she acknowledged God. The recent awful war when the national congress set aside a day of prayer, God heard the cry of His people and victory was given to the allies.

II. A Nation's Glory (Prov. 14:34). The only fame for which a nation may justly be proud is righteousness in the rendering to all their dues. It is this that makes a nation strong and influential. A nation that sins—casts its sacred covenants as "scraps of paper," becomes an outcast among the nations and eventually goes down to ignominious defeat. The nation that has no righteousness as its standard has no right to exist.

III. Christian Citizenship (Rom. 13:1-10).

The believer in Christ is a citizen as well as a church member. Intelligent Christians will show loyalty to the state as well as to the church. I. The Christian's obligation to the state (vv. 1-7). This obligation is upon all Christians. The reason this obligation is universal is that civil government is ordained of God, and the rulers are His representatives. So society cannot exist without government. It is God's purpose that man should live under authority. To refuse obedience to civil authority is to resist God.

(2) The spirit of such obedience (vv. 3, 5). It is to be conscientious, that is, it is to be regarded not merely as serving a good purpose, but morally right.

(3) The nature of this obedience (vv. 6, 7). (a) Payment of personal and property taxes. The citizens who enjoy the benefits of government are morally bound to support it. (b) Payment of duty upon merchandise and license fees. The business exchange between nations must be regulated. For such regulations expense is incurred, for which benefits the citizen should pay. (c) Veneration of magistrates. "Fear to whom fear." Those who fear God should venerate his representatives, that is, civil rulers. (d) "Honor to whom honor," that is, honor of civil servants because of the ministry they perform.

2. The Christian's obligation to his fellow citizens (vv. 8-10). This is summed up in the word "love." Love is a perpetual obligation. The only debt that is right to owe is that of love. This love forbids defrauding in matters of property; it forbids going into debt where there is no reasonable certainty of being able to meet the obligation; it forbids defrauding in matters of moral purity. Where there is love, adultery cannot be committed; it forbids murder; it forbids stealing; it forbids coveting, for coveting means a desire for that which belongs to another; it forbids the working of any ill to one's neighbor.

African Blacks on Rampage

Claim to Belong to Lost Tribes of Israel.

A despatch received from Johannesburg, South Africa, says a strong force of police, armed with machine guns, is concentrating in the Queenstown district to suppress a large number of blacks, claiming to belong to one of the lost tribes of Israel, have seized large estates and committed a number of crimes against the European populace.

Killing Surplus Buffaloes.

British Will Send Troops To Silesia

Battalions Withdrawn to Rhine Will Likely Be Chosen.

The British Government has decided to send troops to Silesia at an early date.

Decision to send the troops resulted from interchanges between Great Britain and France and the British force will be sent to reinforce the allied contingents in Upper Silesia in the near future. The size of the force was not indicated in the announcement but it is understood that not less than four battalions will go, preferably the same troops employed in Upper Silesia during the plebiscite and later withdrawn to the Rhine.
